Another great match in the beginning of the season. This was the day to get "no wind" zeros on your rifle. The weather was great even through the sky threatened to rain once or twice. The grass is growing very nicely on the range and it's looking greener each month. Special thanks to Pual Irvin, who brough his lawn mower and quickly mowed the firing lines prior to the match, which makes searching for brass a snap. Looking forward to the rest of the season.

Many of you have noticed that the range is in the process of an ongoing reconstruction process and will only get better with each passing month, so bring a friend to the next match and please note that if you are interested in joining NHRPC, now is the time since we are rapidly approaching our membership cut off cap at which time no further membership applications will be accepted unless we fall below the cap.

Thanks again,
The Match Director
